February 17, 1998

SUMMARY OF BILL: Allows courts to order revocation of licenses when a custodial parent refuses to comply with an order of visitation. Bill would allow revocation of professional, business, drivers and hunting and fishing licenses. Mandates that persons who lose a license may have it reinstated without re-testing or re-certification. Regulatory agencies may charge no more than five dollars for a reinstatement.

Increase State Revenues - Not Significant

Assumes a not significant increase in state expenditures in those departments of state government which issue licenses offset partially by the $5.00 reinstatement fee.
